Banner and button ads use a short message or catchy graphic to get readers' attention so that they click through to your Web site. Text links use up to 20 words of your choice that are hot-linked to your Web site. Change your ad as often as once a month. Designing your online ad is a lot like designing the display ads you already run in the Idaho County Free Press and The Shopper. You will work with the same advertising consultant and the same graphic artist. Production costs are included in our rates. And you will be able to "proof" your online ads before they appear on our Web site.
